DETAILED ACTION

Examiner's Comments regarding Reasons for Allowance

All claims are allowed. The Remarks section of the latest amendment has helped in understanding some of the meaning of the claims. Page 7 of the Remarks noted that the claims are directed to "on-chip, microprocessor" situations; all claims assume that the claimed features are part of a single microprocessor chip. Furthermore, the words "processor", etc. were already in the claims. Nowadays, the usual meaning of the word "processor" is a single microprocessor chip. For the actual reasons for allowance, see the entirety of the file history, including (but not limited to) the Remarks section of the latest amendment.
